In order to ensure copyright compliance for materials in readers and/or being placed on electronic reserves, please answer the following questions:

1.	Is the reader a copy of a course packet available for purchase at a local copy shop (e.g. Bob's Copy Shop)? YesNo
	Note: It is possible copies of these course packets cannot be made accessible through electronic reserves because of copyright restrictions. If that is the case, they will be placed on paper reserves only.

2. Is the source of any of the articles you are placing on electronic reserves an online full-text database? ____ Yes ____No

Note: Some licenses for online databases prohibit downloading or scanning of their titles for electronic reserves use. For most articles available through an online full-text database, we will link to them directly online.
